

Dr. G. van Wingen

Guido van Wingen is assistant professor at the Department of Psychiatry of the Academic Medical Center, Amsterdam, The Netherlands. His research focuses on the neurobiological underpinnings of emotion regulation in healthy individuals and patients with mood and anxiety disorders. He combines various neuroimaging techniques with genetics, pharmacology, and stress exposure, to investigate how biological and environmental factors determine brain function and dysfunction.